Reminders

This week we will take our first MAP tests in math and reading. It is a benchmark test to track student growth over the course of the year.

You will get a phone call from me by the end of September to touch base on our start to third grade! I'm also looking forward to seeing some of you at parent visitation next week!

Our homework menus are due each week on Mondays. Please note there is a spot at the bottom for you to sign.
